WATERFRONT NOTES

ACCORDING TO authoritative statements given out yesterday, the bark Alden Bease, which has been carrying ohia wood from Hilo to this port, had surrendered her charter to carry ohia ties from Hilo to Redondo. The owners think that owing to the weight of the ohia ties she will not be able to carry much more than half a cargo which is a losing proposition.THE FLAGSHIP Mauna Kea, Captain Freeman, of the Inter-island fleet, having on board her, one of the largest crowds that ever sailed from this port, left at noon today for Hilo via Maui ports. Most of her passengers were principally school children, who have just completed their school term.THE STEAMERS Kinah and Mikahala, the former going to Kaula, and the latter to Molokai-Maui ports, will leave at 5 o'clock this afternoon for their destination. Besides carrying passengers, they will take along mail and freight for the island stores.THE CABLESHIP Florence Ward, Captain Pitz, is preparing to leave for her annual trip to Midway. She is now taking on supplies for the inhabitants on Midway. She will probably leave next Saturday.

GALLANT RESCUE

BY NEW ARRIVAL

Owing to the prompt and gallant action of a new arrival in Honolulu, the life of a young Hawaiian boy was saved yesterday afternoon. Seeing the lad in the stream at the corner of King and River streets, the captain, whose name is Walter Kler, plunged in and drew the boy to the bank.Kler did not even stop to remove his clothes, but rushed to the aid of the boy who was crying for help, and Kler saw that the youngster was seized with cramps, he, without hesitation, dived into the water.There was a large crowd present and all was excitement for a while. Some of the people who were present thought that the boy was falling, and did not know how to help. Kler, however, saw the boy sink once and then went over the bank in one flying leap to the rescue.
Kler at first would not give his name, and only wanted to slip quickly away after saving the boy's life. He is a stranger in this city and does not appear to be known by anybody.EXPECT SUSPECTED MAN TO CONFESSAlthough the coroner's jury arrived at a verdict that left the death of Henry Wetherill more or less of a mystery, the police department have by no means given up the case, and some sensational developments may be expected in a day or so.
The three men who were held on suspicion of murdering Wetherill, are still in custody and it is expected that one of them will break down and confess who committed the crime.Deputy Sheriff Rose is working on the case, and is leaving no stone unturned to ferret out who did Henry Wetherill to death.CHIKITITA IS BOOKED FOR HAWAIIManager Joe Cohen is in receipt of advice from the mainland which state that, after all, the Post Company are not coming to Honolulu. It appears that the young ladies of the company who do the dancing part of the show, could not make up their minds to go so far away from home, and, although the attractions of Hawaii were forced on their notice in every possible way, they positively declined to make the trip.Mr. Cohen is very much disappointed over the matter and is now hard at work trying to arrange for some other show to import. It is very probable that Chikitita, the wonderful little midget who has charmed audiences all over the world, will make the trip to Honolulu under Cohen's management.The little woman, who is only 28 inches in height, and who weighs but 30 pounds, is a wonderful singer and dancer. Her voice is said to be remarkably clear and her dancing as good as most of the larger stars blessed with larger proportions.NEW ROAD WORK BEGUN YESTERDAYRoad Supervisor John H. Wilson, with a large force of men, began work yesterday on the new Ala Moana road opposite Camp Perry and Victoria street in front of the Mc-Kinley High School. On account of the rain of the past few days, work was suspended temporarily on the road to fill up the valley. The work has progressed as far as the Honolulu Dairy, coming towards the city.
